Hello parents,

I wish you and your family a blessed Easter break as we prepare for our Risen Savior to announce his victory over sin, death and the devil. If you are looking for a church service to attend during this Holy Week, Immanuel Lutheran Church in Redondo Beach has opened their doors to our school community. Their contact information is: 706 Knob Hill Ave, Redondo Beach, CA 90277, (310) 540-4435

At our parent meeting last night we discussed our end of the year trip, prom, graduation, and our dinner auction event. If you have not purchased your dinner auction tickets, please prayerfully consider supporting this event through attending it and/or bringing others with you. The cost of the event is $30.00 and covers dinner, dessert and participation in the auctions. Parents attending this auction event may count these hours towards the 20 hour per family requirement each year.

I have sent home third quarter grades that your child was to have signed by you and returned to the school office. The vast majority of our students did quite well, are learning and thinking effectively, and well on their way to being ready for college. Please arrange a conference with individual teacher(s) if grades are low and / or intervention is needed. If your child has not shown you his third quarter grades, please ask him about this and send a note to the office confirming you have seen them.

Reenrollment is going well for next year, and our incoming 9th grade students' grades are superb. Additionally we have accepted three solid transfer students, and three international students from South Korea and China. We have had two students come to our school through recommendations of parents which is our most effective form of advertising. If you know of a high-school aged child who might benefit from a Christian education, please tell them about our school.

I have gone over 2009-2010 student schedules with many students this week and last. If your child has not gone over his schedule with me, please have him see me so this might be done.

I have attached a tentative schedule for next school year with this newsletter. Please look it over and use it for your planning purposes. Please note the earlier testing days indicated on this calendar. As of right now it looks like we're adding three classes for next year and improving our college counseling services. Please see me if you would like specifics or have additional suggestions for continued improvement.

Continued...

May our Lord bless and keep you in His care over break.

In Christ,

Lucas Fitzgerald
